LANCASTER UNI

TECHNICAL CONFERENCE 2024

Lancaster University
Tuesday 10th September

Thank You to our Key Sponsors

Lancaster University

Lancaster University campus occupies a beautiful 560-acre parkland site and is proud to be one of only a handful of UK universities with a collegiate system.

In 1947 a public meeting in Lancaster endorsed a proposal that a university might be established in the city. The idea lay dormant until Lancashire County Council revived it in early 1961. The Council created a Promotion Committee for a University in North-West Lancashire. Lord Derby was the chair of the committee. The Promotion Committee presented a proposal to the University Grants Committee for Lancaster. From the day it opened its doors, the new institution had full authority to manage its affairs within the terms of its Royal Charter and Statutes.

Lancaster's vision is to be a University that is globally significant - a sector leader and innovator that delivers the highest quality research, teaching and student experience, and that engages locally, nationally, and internationally.

Lancaster has challenged itself to become net-zero carbon by 2025 and our Conference will highlight this in session 3 workshop 16.

About the IST Conference

The IST has been supporting the technical workforce in the creative, digital, engineering and science technologies for over 75 Years.

Our aim is to make the Institute all embracing and, in order to achieve this, help/advice networks, skills training, specialist forums, recognised qualifications, continuing career development opportunities and guidance will be available to the membership.

Recognition of professional standing is high on our agenda and, most importantly, expansion of the vibrant community of specialist, technical and managerial colleagues who will work together to help make a difference and shape the future.

Our Annual Conference plays a vital role in giving technicians the opportunity to network with other technical staff and managers from across the UK, as well as providing the chance to take part in a National event or deliver a presentations or talk.
